Howard University
Center for African Studies
African Studies Department
Presents

Wednesday, November 18, 2015
2:00-3:30 PM
Ralph J. Bunche International Affairs Center, Howard University
2218 Sixth Street, NW, Washington, DC 20059

In partnership with the Ralph Bunche Center International Affairs Center and the US-Africa Network.

Presenters: Luckystar Miyandazi and Alvin Mosioma

Luckystar Miyandazi currently serves as the Africa Coordinator for ActionAid International’s Tax Power Campaign Africa based in Nairobi. Luckystar has also worked as the Coordinator for the East African Tax and Governance Network, a pro bono case manager with the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia, and as a researcher with the African Centre for the Constructive Resolution of Disputes.

Alvin Mosioma is the Executive Director of Tax Justice Network-Africa (TJN-A) based in Nairobi. Alvin has grown Tax Justice Network - Africa from a one-person Secretariat in 2007 to a staff of ten. The membership has grown to a total of twenty-five member organizations from eighteen countries across Africa. Under Alvin’s direction, TJN-A has also established links with leading institutions such as the Africa Tax Administrator Forum, the African Union, and the East African Community.

For more information contact: Wheeler Winstead, Assistant Director Center for African Studies at Wheeler.r.winstead@howard.edu, Telephone: (202) 238-2354